

DOLPHIN ISLAND - A PRIVATE ISLAND PARADISE

Total Seclusion and Relaxation

With provision for a maximum of just four guests at any given time, Dolphin Island offers a rare hospitality experience – your own private island. Warm and friendly Fijian staff are on hand to look after guests as often or as little as required and each day drifts seamlessly into the next.

Two plantation-style bures sit side-by-side surrounded by coconut palms, hibiscus and fragrant frangipani. Wide and spacious verandas encourage outdoor dining, drinks at sunset and an opportunity to catch the soft tropical sea breeze.

One of the bures is dedicated to relaxing, dining and entertainment. Comfortable cane furniture and Fijian-inspired interior ensures a casual atmosphere and island-style living at its best. In the evening candles and kerosene lanterns continue the magic.

The second bure, just a few steps away, contains two comfortable en suite bedrooms with private balconies, cool tiled floors, pure cotton bed linen and fresh flowers. Both bedrooms are fully air-conditioned.

 2.5 hours +  20 mins

Dolphin Island is surrounded by crystal-clear waters so aquatic adventures are available in abundance; snorkeling, kayaks and a Hobbie catamaran are available, with expeditions to areas or activities further a field readily arranged.

The island is small enough to explore on foot within a couple of hours through shady paths and sandy trails. There are several vantage points to rest and admire the views from, including a romantic sleep-out bure, where guests will often retreat for an afternoon, or spend the night. The days can be whiled away relaxing in a hammock, lying on a sandy beach and floating in the warm seawater. There is also a dreamy daybed, swathed in white gauze that can be moved as required – from one venue to the next.

PS: A minimum three-night stay is required, however that's not difficult.

Main pic a very private island; top right the dreamy day bed; bottom left comfortable bedroom with private balcony; bottom middle wide & spacious verandah for outdoor dining.